

Resident Research Travel Policy

Effective from 10/1/2011

PURPOSE

To inform residents about the process for obtaining research meeting travel approval and reimbursement.

ELIGIBILITY

1. Categorical general surgery residents during their lab years at NU who have an oral presentation accepted to a national meeting in the continental United States.
2. Categorical general surgery residents presenting research that was conducted during their lab years at NU who have an oral presentation accepted to a national meeting in the continental United States.

Please note: If you are seeking authorization to attend a meeting that is unrelated to research conducted in your lab years and you are not a lab resident please see the Resident Educational Meeting Travel & Reimbursement Authorization form.

Residents should make a concerted effort to seek travel scholarships, such as the NMH Goldberg Award prior requesting reimbursement from the Department of Surgery. There are three cycles for the NMH Goldberg award; the announcements go out in September, December and March.

PROCEDURES

1. The Department of Surgery will also sponsor categorical general surgery residents conducting research at NU during their first lab year to attend the AAS Fundamentals of Surgical Research and Career Development Courses. Both are held in conjunction with the American College of Surgeons Clinical Congress in October. These are both strongly recommended, but not mandatory to attend.
2. The Department of Surgery will sponsor categorical general surgery residents conducting research at NU during their first lab year to attend the Academic Surgical Congress; this should be considered a mandatory meeting for first year residents.
3. For all other national scientific and surgical meetings, the Department of Surgery will sponsor categorical general surgery research residents to attend the meeting if the resident submitted an abstract that was accepted for ORAL/PODIUM presentation. The Department of Surgery will not provide reimbursement for a resident to attend a meeting for a poster presentation.
